Buddy Desk

User's Guide and Safety Recommendations

Congratulations on your excellent decision to purchase your very own proudly South African designed and manufactured Buddy Desk (Registered Design No F2011/01048). The Buddy Desk has been designed and manufactured exclusively with the needs of you, our customer in mind!

As a keen hobbyist, crafter, student or home owner needing a good working surface, but without giving up too much space, you now have peace of mind knowing that you own the most carefully thought out and engineered space-saving work surface solution available in the country.

In service to you, every Buddy product is carefully manufactured to meet superior quality standards and carries an unconditional 2-year guarantee to be free of any manufacturing or functional defect.

Throughout the business process, starting with design and moving through to manufacturing then sales and finally installation, our goal is to make your life easier!

Whilst great care is taken to ensure you have a world class product that is easy to use and intended to provide you with many years of excellent service there are just a few important points to remember when using your Buddy Desk:

1. When opening the Buddy Desk simply grab hold of the timber worktop and lift it into position ensuring that both brackets have fully extended and are locked in position. (NB: Do not attempt to use the release handle to open the desk).
2. Safety First: When your desk is open make sure both brackets are fully extended and always engage both lockout pins to avoid any accidental closure whilst working on your Buddy Desk.
3. The Buddy Desk is intended for use as a regular desk, not a communal seat bench. Never exceed the 60kg maximum load on your Buddy Desk.
4. Once you have finished your project and need the space back, remove the safety lockout pins from each bracket, then standing in front of the Buddy Desk in the centre, take hold of the Buddy Quick Release Handle by grasping it firmly, with fingers pointing down. Now with your arm outstretched and feet firmly in position, pull the handle towards you. The brackets will disengage and the desk will begin to drop suddenly. Control the drop away force by holding onto the handle and easing the desk top down towards the wall. Lastly when the desk is closed very slowly guide the handle towards the underside of the worktop, you will feel the retractor cord pulling on the handle, and once the handle is neatly tucked away you can release it.

We trust you will enjoy using your Buddy Desk for years to come.
